(CONCLUDED ON SECOND PAGE.)

The Old Woman of Shamokin.

Some few miles from Shamokin, Pennsylvania, lives a character that those manly people, "the women's rights women," should certainly know as she is decidedly the champion. The singular being is some seventy-two years of age, and is altogether the most manly woman I ever met with. A tenant-at-will, she has occupied for many years the farm she cultivates with her own hands and the assistance of hired laborers. She owns about forty-two head of cattle, some of which I saw, and are really fine stock. She lives alone in her log cabin, her only companions being two shepherd dogs and her chickens, many of the latter sleeping under the same roof with her, she calling them her children, and training them up in the way they should go, so as to cause the least inconvenience to her in their habits of life. She is utterly fearless, and with her dogs and gun, which she can use with unerring aim, Lize Schuler is a character that few would care to trifle with. Imagine, if you can, a woman of medium size, dressed in men's clothes, with a soft hat variously indented upon her head, no coat, barefooted, and you have this champion of "woman's rights" before you. Wrinkled though her face is by the storms and trials of many years, the strength and activity of this man-woman of seventy-two is somewhat wonderful. Voluble is hardly the term suitable for the expression of her powers of talk, and few men, however disposed for such perfection, may boast themselves superior to her on the score of profanity. Much and varied has been my travel, and strange sights and objects have I seen and met with, but the Hermit of Shamokin, with her supernatural powers of tongue and limb, far surpasses anything of my previous experience.—Episcopal Register.

The Battle of the Bullfrogs.

Many of the citizens of Vermont will remember to have seen on one-dollar bills of the Windham County State Bank a vignette representing bullfrogs fighting. This was engraved to commemorate the Battle of the Bullfrogs. The facts were as follows: Many years ago, when the town of Windham was newly settled, there came a very dry season. There are two large ponds in Windham seperated by an intervening strip of land of considerable extent. Each of these ponds was inhabited by a large community of the reptiles above named. The smaller pond dried up and its inhabitants started in a body for the lower and larger pond. They were met in the intervening space by the community from the larger pond, and a fierce and long-continued battle ensued between the rival communities. Such was the hideous bellowing of the frogs during their fierce encounter that it alarmed the inhabitants, who at first supposed it to be the whoop of the hostile savages. But curiosity getting the better of their fears, they cautiously proceeded to the spot whence the hideous sound issued, and there beheld the strange spectacle of two immense armies of bullfrogs, covering many acres of ground, engaged in a fierce and deadly battle. This battle continued more than twenty-four hours, and when it was over the ground was literally covered with the slain, and it became necessary, to avoid the noxious effluvia to gather and bury them.—Boston Transcript.

HELPING HER OUT.—When the renowned Mrs. Siddons was playing in Dublin, in the well-known tragedy of "Macbeth," she, as Lady Macbeth, came to that part where a drum sounds, and she exclaims, "A drum! a drum! Macbeth do thcome!" There was some difficulty or neglect in obtaining the necessary instrument, and, to her amusement, a trumpet was sounded. She immediately saw how absurd it would be to say "drum" while the well known sound of the trumpet met the ears of the vast audience, so she said, "A trumpet! a trumpet!" and stopped short, amid breathless silence, not knowing how to rhyme, when a voice from the gallery called out, "Macbeth doth stump it!" at which the house broke out into a peal of laughter and applause, and the tragedienne advanced to the footlights and bowed her acknowledgement for the relief. She afterward tried to find out who it was, but failed to do so, and never forgot what she considered the most genuine piece of wit she had met in all her experience.

Caleb Cushing says that he believes his late affair about the yellow dog has given him greater notoriety than any other act of his life. He is constantly receiving newspapers containing editorial comments on the suit, and people point him out in the streets as the man who put an injunction on that dog.

The Chinamen working in the Montana mines never labor after 4 o'clock in the afternoon, having a firm belief that at that hour the angels leave the earth for heaven.

CONVICTED.—The trial of Wm. E. Uddercook for the murder of Wm. S. Goss, near Jennersville, Pa., last summer, which has been occupying the attention of the public for more than a week past, at West Chester, Pa., was brought to a close last Saturday night. The jury after much deliberation and a careful examination of the evidence, rendered a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree," on Sunday morning.

THE MARYLAND ELECTION.—The recent Democratic triumph in Maryland was much more complete than was at first reported. The official returns from every precinct show the Democratic majority to be 20,250. This is an increase of 5,271 over Governor Whyte's majority in 1871. The aggregate vote of the State, also, shows a heavy increase. The vote polled at the Governor's election in 1871 was 132,728; the vote last year was 134,447; this year it was 139,005.

Maryland has done her duty nobly, and John Andrew Jackson Creswell won't go to the United States Senate next year.

Because the Democrats wouldn't vote for old Horace Greeley and let the election go by default, the Radicals were silly enough to think the Democratic party was "played out." Perhaps they think differently now.

DEATH OF MRS. R. E. LEE.—Mrs. Mary Custis Lee, widow of the illustrious Gen. Robert E. Lee, died at her residence in Lexington, Va., on Thursday morning 6th inst. Mrs. Lee has been an invalid for the last eight or ten years, and since the death of her husband, to whom she was devotedly attached, three years ago, her health has been rapidly failing. The fresh bereavement caused by the death of her daughter, Miss Annie Lee, last summer, bore heavily upon her.

Mrs. Lee was the only daughter of G. W. P. Custis, youngest child of John P. Custis, who was a son of Martha Washington by her first husband. The father of Mrs. Lee was adopted by Gen. Washington, and lived as a member of the Washington family until the death of his mother in 1802. He was the owner of the Arlington estate, near Washington, which Mrs. Lee inherited from him, and of which, to the lasting disgrace of the nation, she was so basely robbed by the Government during the civil war. Mrs. Lee was a lady of most excellent character, and was universally respected and esteemed by all who knew her.

THE CUBAN WAR.—An engagement is reported to have taken place on the 6th inst. between a Spanish force and a small body of Cuban "rebels," in which the latter were defeated with a loss of twenty killed and eighty taken prisoner. The Spanish Commander immediately ordered all the prisoners to be shot, which was done. For this act the Governor arrested the officer and telegraphed an account of the affair to the Captain General. The latter telegraphed back causing the officer to be released and ordering the Governor to Havana, thus sanctioning the bloody and brutal act of the Commander.

This is the nature of the warfare which these devils in human shape, the Spaniards are waging against the Cuban patriots who are struggling to free their native island from the hated yoke of the foreign tyrant, and our miserable apology of a government turns a deaf ear to the prayers of the struggling Cubans and winks at the barbarous cruelty and outrages on humanity perpetrated by the Spanish fiends. Only a few days ago the people were shocked by the report that a vessel, the Virginius, sailing under an American register and carrying the United States flag, had been captured in neutral waters, and four of her passengers, two of whom were American citizens, ignominiously murdered, without charge and without trial, by the Spanish authorities. This, too, is passed over in silence by our pusillanimous rulers, and an insult to the United States flag far greater than that committed at Fort Sumpter in 1861 is permitted to pass unheeded and unavenged. The time was when such an outrage as that recently perpetrated upon the Virginius would have aroused the indignation of the whole American people, and when, instead of the contemptible apology which Mr. Secretary Fish talks about, our Democratic rulers would have demanded the surrender of these Spanish fiends, to be dealt with according to their merits. DESPERATE AND DARING ATTEMPT TO ROB THE BANK OF DELAWARE.

FRUSTRATED BY A YOUNG LADY.

Cashier Floyd Gagged and Silenced.

FOUR OF THE RASCALS CAUGHT.

A most imputent and daring attempt was made by a number of "professionals" to rob the Bank of Delaware, in Wilmington, last Friday evening week, (7th.). About half-past six o'clock while the family of the cashier, Saml. Floyd, was at tea, a knock at the door was heard. Mr. Floyd opened the door when a man, masked, pushed by Mr. F. and entered the room. Mr. F. thinking the man insane stepped out to call the police and was seized by four or five other men one of whom presented a pistol at his head commanding him to keep silent, which order Mr. Floyd very sensibly obeyed. In fact he couldn't well do anything else for his visitors not trusting to the quieting qualities of the revolver applied a gag to his mouth and a pair of bracelets to his arms. The unbidden guests then entered the room where the ladies were still engaged at the table and made the same request for silence of them, presenting the same inducements to them that they first presented to the cashier. But the ladies were not so easily controlled as doubtless the professionals had calculated upon. They seem to have forgotton or not to have known that fair woman is sometimes refractory, and as these seem not to have been "desperate looking villains" the ladies were, evidently, not much afraid of the pistols in their hands, for whenever men use such gentle terms as "my pet lamb" to feminines they needn't expect the dear creatures to be afraid of them even though they attempt to frighten them with pistols, bowie-knives, etc. There were present in the room with Mr. Floyd, his wife, his sister, two nieces and a colored woman, the cook. When the would-be burglars entered, all armed and masked, one of the younger ladies partially swooned. This somewhat disconcerted the "gentlemanly robbers" who seem to have had no intention to injure anybody, and turned their attention a little from the rest of the inmates of the room. While their polite attention was turned to the fainting lady, the colored woman, who had dodged under a table made an attempt to slip out of the door but was caught and stopped. While they were stopping her, however, the other of the young ladies, Miss Kates, suddenly bounced from under another table and out at the door. One of the men undertook to catch her, but as many others have done in endeavors to catch the fair sex—he failed. He might as well have tried to catch a streak of greased lightning as that girl. She went out of that house and along the street like a shot. Then it was "all up" with the bank robbery. Those fellows knew that the best thing they could do would be to make themselves scarce. This they did, and Mrs. Floyd and the cook holloaed lustily for the police, who, of course, being wanted were not there. Officer Carberry, however, heard the calls for help and hastened to the scene, and on learning the condition of things started in hot haste in pursuit of the fugitives. Seeing a suspicious looking character going up Market St. he followed him. The officer continued the chase through several streets, and on Walnut near Eighth he discovered just ahead of him three men one of whom was the man he had been following. He called to the men to stop, that he wanted to see them. They stopped and waited until he got up to them and asked what he wanted. He asked them why they were in such a hurry. One of them replied by tapping him on the head with a black-jack, another, at the same time, gave him a rap over the cranium with a heavy chisel and the third treated him to the contents of a revolver, but the ball fortunately missed its mark only grazing the officer's cap. Carberry staggered under the effects of the blows he had received and reeled against a fence near at hand and shot at his assailants twice from his revolver. This had the effect to very much quicken their steps. Two of them ran up Walnut street and the other down. Chief of Police Brady attracted by the firing hastened to the scene, and ran a short distance up Walnut St. but could see nothing of the men. Officer Carberry was taken into a neighboring drug store where his wounds were dressed. The chisel made an ugly wound but he was not seriously hurt and was about again next day.

Officer Hettrick, after carefully searching the bank premises, went home, took off his uniform and donned a citizens' dress and started out to look for the burglars. Seeing two suspicious looking fellows near the railroad, he ordered them to stop. In answer the men shot at the officer with revolvers. He returned their fire and gave chase. The fellows ran in a northwesterly direction until they came to Vandever Avenue where they were joined by another in a buggy, evidently a "pal." They all got into the buggy and drove rapidly away and for the time escaped, but the telegraph is a bad thing for rogues. Information was sent flying over the wires in every direction. That was the last that was seen of the burglars that night. The excitement, however, being at fever heat, the police kept on the trail and continued the search. The next day the most diligent search revealed the fact that the head-quarters of the gang had been in a house at the south-west corner of Ninth and Poplar Sts. and a generous haul was made of the latest and most approved patterns of "professional instruments." Shortly after another house at the corner of Ninth and Kirkwood Sts. was reported as having been made use of by suspicious characters. The police, in consequence, made a descent upon that house also and captured four men in a second-story room. No resistance was made by the men, and they were taken at once to the City Hall Cells, followed by a large and excited crowd. These men gave their names as: Francis H. Carter, of Philadelphia; Joseph Lawlor, of Springfield, Mass.; James Thomas, of Philadelphia, and Edward H. Halbert, of New Orleans. Before committing them to the cells the men were searched, but nothing of a suspicious nature was found upon them.

These men are all described as being respectable in appearance, and rather refined, having nothing of the common thief look about them. Just such looking "gentlemanly thieves" as Northern juries would be too sentimental to convict.

After a hearing before Mayor Simms, the accused parties were committed to New Castle to await trial at the session of the Criminal Court next week, and if found guilty they will be very apt to undergo some of the peculiar punishment allotted to rogues in Delaware. Their genteel appearance will not, in case of conviction, keep them from the Whipping-Post and pillory, for Judge Gilpin is no respecter of the persons of thieves.

At the examination before the Mayor, Officer Carberry identified Carter as the man who struck him with the black-jack.

Since the arrest of these men Detective Wood, of Philadelphia, who came down to Wilmington to take a look at them, has identified one of them, Carter, as "Big Frank," alias Frank O'Donnell, a notorious Philadelphia rascal, who has been engaged in several bank affairs before, and is also wanted in Pennsylvania to answer the charge of having shot a man named Paddy Williams, in April 1870. Another of the arrested men has been identified as Thomas Hope another precious pet well known to the Phila. police.

Another Flash of Hymenial Glory.

The following account of the recent wedding ceremony of a young lady, well known to many of our readers, we republish by special request. It is taken from a paper published in Westchester, N.Y., the home of the parties. Miss Ella is a grand-daughter of the late Hon. A. S. Naudain.

"The marriage mania still holds this gallant little democratic stronghold firmly in its grasp, and eligible bachelors are becoming decidedly scarce in consequence. Every week merrily ring the nuptial bells of some sweet lass—almost—but rarely do we believe or more beautiful than she who on Thursday last became the wife of the only son of Mr. S. Lockey, only son of the Hon. Wm. Lockey, deservedly known throughout this County and State. St. Peter's Church was [illegible] with [illegible] and many were the [illegible] as the bride, [illegible] the graceful festoons, and other appropriate devices, were elegantly arranged and displayed the most marvelous and choicest productions of Flora's kingdom. Carriage after carriage deposited its precious load of eager ones, "bidden to the marriage," at the broad carpeted way leading to the Church. The hour—half-past twelve had come. Few were too late there; early the pews were filled with wealth, beauty and fashion; the bride had made herself ready. Grandly peal the organ notes filling the stately edifice with volumes of delicious sound, as slowly up the centre aisle advance the bridal party, the charming bride, Miss Lillie Ellis, escorted by her father, Dr. James Ellis, the leading physician of the town. A robe of white Irish poplin, en train, elaborately trimmed with satin and tulle, envelops her form, the traditional orange blossoms are in her hair, and a veil of tulle falls in gossamer-like folds about her. The three bridesmaids are pretty in white tarletan, with broad sashes. The bridegroom looks wonderfully proud and happy. Now a profound hush pervades the large assembly as the Rector, Rev. Dr. C. H. Wyatt, Dean of the Southern Convocation, performs the impressive ceremony and solemnly pronounces Miss Lillie "part and parcel" of another. Then the great throbbing organ waves roll out joyously, the bells peal merrily, there seems naught but joy-entrancing for the nonce, and in a blaze of wedding glory the happy couple make their exit. A reception at the residence of the bride's father immediately succeeded, and was a brilliant affair, after which the newly married started on a wedding tour.

The S. School Exhibition at Townsend.

Editor Transcript:—According to previous announcement the Sabbath School Exhibition connected with the M. E. Church at Townsend, came off on the 6th inst and was a grand success. During the day the weather had the appearance of rain, and those connected with the exhibition were apprehensive of a failure in consequence, but Madam Nature appeared to sympathize with them and kept the rain back, and long before the time for the exercises to commence a large audience had gathered, and at the appointed time the exercises were opened with prayer, by our worthy Pastor, Rev. C. W. Prettyman, after which the school sang "The Greeting Song," and all the way through the exercises, which lasted about two hours, the speaking with very few exceptions, was first-rate. The platform was tastefully trimmed with evergreen wreaths and appropriate mottoes; one motto particularly attracted our attention at the back of the platform, it consisted of large letters formed with evergreen, and a cross of flowers arranged to read as follows: "Cling to the Cross of Christ."

Much credit is due to Mr. D. B. Maloney, Supt. and others connected with the school for the zeal and patience shewn in the training and management of the scholars, because, as you are aware, it is no easy task to take the "little rough stones" and smooth and polish them to speak well.

A beautiful book was offered by the Supt. as a prize to the scholar that would sell the most tickets, and Annie L. Gill having sold the most became the fortunate person.

The thanks of the school are also due to Prof. J. W. Denny, who lead the singing. Those desirous of becoming accomplished singers should employ the Professor who thoroughly understands his business.

The proceeds of the exhibition amounted to forty-one dollars. SPECTATOR.

Minor Topics.

Gov. Ponder has appointed Thursday November 27th, Thanksgiving-day.

The President has refused to remove James Lewis from the Wilmington postmastership, much to the disgust of numerous aspirants to that position.

E. B. Rice, proprietor of the "Old Bank," has resumed specie payments. Persons who buy fifty cents worth of goods, and tender a dollar in payment will receive the change in silver.

Court meets on Monday. Next week will be devoted to the trial of criminal cases, and other State business. The Superior and Civil Court will commence on Monday week.

The President of the Bank of Delaware offered a reward of $500.00 each for the arrest of the scoundrels who attempted to rob the bank immediately after the attempt was made. As four of them have been caught the bank is out $2,500.

The Amateur Minstrels, composed of young men of Middletown, will give an entertainment in the Town Hall on Thursday evening next. This promises to be a very excellent affair, and we have no doubt will be a grand success. Read the advertisement.

Accidents

E. W. Lockwood, Esq., met with a mishap on Tuesday evening last which might have been rather serious. He was searching for a clothes line in the yard near his horse and as it was very dark he could not see anything around him and unfortunately ran against his horse that was standing in the yard. The horse not knowing who or what it was that ran against him kicked violently at Mr. L. striking him with both feet in the stomach and knocking him prostrate Mr. Lockwood was considerably bruised and pretty badly, but not seriously, hurt, and is rapidly recovering.

ANOTHER.—Edw. J. Hurlock, salesman at G. W. W. Naudain's, fell down the hatch-way in E. M. Hanson's store, into the cellar beneath on Wednesday evening and was a good deal hurt.

The Trial List.

By direction of the Clerk of the Court we publish on our first page a List of the causes to be tried at the approaching term of Court, in accordance with an act passed by the General Assembly at the last session. The object of this law, we believe, is for the benefit of people having business before the courts. Under this law the judges are required to meet seven days before Court and make a list of all the causes for trial, divide the same into classes and appoint days on which "the trial in each class shall commence," and witnesses may be summond to attend Court "not more than two days previous to the day on which the trial of the cases" in any one "class shall commence" except in certain cases provided for.

Supposed Homicide.

On Tuesday night, 4th inst., in St. Martin's district, near Whaleyville, Worcester co., Md., a man by the name of Henry Brittingham came to his death at the hands of some person not yet definitely known. Suspicion, it is said, points to a young man as the perpetrator of the deed. A severe wound was found upon the front part of Brittingham's head, which had the appearance of having been made by brass knuckles. The skull, we understand, was fractured, causing death. The difficulty between the parties, it is thought, arose from politics.—Snow Hill Messenger.

The Buell Family Concert.

The concert given by the Buell Family in the M. E. Church last Saturday night was quite successful. The house was well filled with a large and appreciative audience, and the recipts were very satisfactory. The managers return their thanks to the public for their presence and patronage.

On Sunday the Buells attended Divine Worship at the Methodist Church, and in the evening at the Presbyterian, and furnished both churches with some choice music.

Painful Gunning Accident.

A painful and rather serious accident happened to Mr. Wm. O. Green, of Warwick, on Tuesday. He was out gunning with a number of companions, and by some means his gun was accidentally discharged, the load passing through Mr. Green's right hand. Some of the shot also struck him in the face. It was found necessary to amputate two of the fingers. The operation was performed by Dr. S. E. Wills, of Cecilton.

St. Ann's P. E. Church.

Rev. Wm. C. Butler, the newly chosen rector of St. Ann's, arrived in Middletown on Thursday evening, and will (D. V.) preach in that church to-morrow at 10½ A. M. and 8 P. M. A special address to the children of the Sunday School will be delivered in the afternoon.

Preaching at Armstrong's.

Rev. Dr. Patton will preach in the Chapel at Armstrong's Corner to-morrow, Sunday, afternoon.

Appointments.

Hon. Willard Saulsbury has been appointed Chancellor, and Thomas M. Ogle, Recorder.

"The Christian at Work."

To all persons who are fond of good reading we do most cordially and heartily commend the above Journal. It is an independent, unsectarian paper of sixteen pages neatly cut and trimmed, devoted to Religion, Morals, Reform, News, Literature, Science &c. &c., and is under the direct editorial management of Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage, the most glowing writer and eloquent Divine of modern times. His writings are universally acknowledged to be among the most readable articles ever penned. Besides editorials, written by him, on current events of the day, the paper will contain many of his most eloquent sermons.

Another of the most celebrated preachers of the world is announced as a contributor to the Christian at Work, viz: the renowned Spurgeon, of London. This is the only American publication for which he will write. As a premium for subscribers three splendid chromos are offered, one of which "The Twins" after a painting by Sir Edwin Landseer is magnificent, worth more than the price of the paper and chromo combined. It measures nearly two by two and a half feet, and is beautiful. A copy of "The Christian at Work," with the chromos, can be seen on application to Mr. Charles E. Clayton, who is the canvassing agent for this vicinity.

MARYLAND ELECTION.—Woolford's majority, at the recent election, in Kent Co. was 181; Franklin's, 184; Blackiston's, 47; Stevens', 81; Plummer's, 130; average Dem. majority on Legislative ticket, 141. Average Dem. majority for County Commissioners, 183. For Locol option, 1,121 votes were cast, and 697 against it. Gresham, Rep., was elected Surveyor, there being no opposing candidate.

In Cecil, Woolford's majority was 351; Franklin's, 355; Mitchell's, 515; Jamar's, 300; Knight's, 400; Average Dem. majority on Legislative ticket, 434; Average Dem majority for County Commissioners, 234; Scott's maj. for Sheriff, 436; Brokaw's for Surveyor, 285.

A. T. A. Torbert, Consul at Havana, has been promoted. What for, except neglecting American interests and to afford protection to American citizens in Havana, the Government only can tell. If Henry C. Hall, who is appointed to fill his place, will only show some spirit in the case of the steamer Virginius and her slaughtered passengers, the American people will have less reason to be heartily ashamed both of the impotence of General Grant's Administration as regards Cuban outrages, and of its representatives in that afflicted island.—Balt. Gazette.

Our friends will please excuse the want of reading matter this week. The trial list has taken up so much room that much interesting matter is crowded out.

Iron in the Blood

MAKES THE WEAK STRONG.

The Peruvian Syrup, a Protoxide of Iron, is so combined as to have the character of an aliment, as easily digested and assimilated with the blood as the simplest food. It increases the quantity of Nature's Own Vitalizing Agent, Iron in the blood, and cures "a thousand ills," simply by Toning up, Invigorating and Vitalizing the System. The enriched and vitalized blood permeates every part of the body, repairing damages and waste, searching out morbid secretions, and leaving nothing for disease to feed upon.

This is the secret of the wonderful success of this remedy in curing Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Nervous Affections, Chills and Fevers, Humors, Loss of Constitutional Vigor, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Female Complaints, and all diseases originating in a bad state of the blood, or accompanied by debility or a low state of the system. Being free from Alcohol, in any form, its energizing effects are not followed by corresponding reaction, but are permanent, infusing strength, vigor, and new life into all parts of the system, and building up an Iron Constitution.

Thousands have been changed by the use of this remedy, from weak, sickly, suffering creatures, to strong, healthy, and happy men and women; and invalids cannot reasonably hesitate to give it a trial.

See that each bottle has PERUVIAN SYRUP blown in the glass.
